Sacred Heartians celebrated Children's Day with the orphaned and differently-abled

Students of classes XI and XII on Children's Day i.e. 14th November visited an Orphanage – Shri Balaji Prem Asharam and Nikhil Vidhyala, Pakhowal Road to celebrate Bal Diwas, especially with those who are in the need of care and concern. Approximately two hundred ten students started at sharp 10:30 am. in different school vans accompanied by their respective class- teachers. They carried items such as blankets, bed sheets, warmers, mufflers, ration items, eatables, and stationary for charity. It took merely half an hour to reach the destination where our children joyfully interacted with those who were differently abled or left by their parents.

The students and teachers along with the kids relished the cake-cutting ceremony and danced together on the musical notes to mark the importance of the day. The managing team of the Orphanage apprised the teachers and the students that these children are given an education from classes Nursery to VIII and they are given all the facilities which ordinarily are availed by all the children of their age. They have a specific routine schedule that is compulsorily followed by all the dwellers. The Orphanage is run by CWC, Punjab established for the noble cause and welfare of the children.

The students expressed their happiness after meeting with these children who need empathy and support from society. This celebration and the moments spent with them gave them a touching experience that can never be forgotten as it aroused in them the virtues of fellow feeling, charity, and empathy.
